Hello Abigail. Question - Is there ever a situation where you can prepay a vendor before product or work is completed?

Hi Alisha, the AG's office's guidance from our contract template is "STATE will not make any advance payments before performance or delivery by CONTRACTOR under this Contract." There might be a rare scenario of a subscription for something IT related that the AG might determine something different, but I have never seen a case where prepayment is allowable.

If you have a specific situation, I would suggest discussion with your legal counsel.
