

To message Robinhood support, open the Robinhood app +(1) > (866) > (401) > (0866). and log into your account. Tap on your account icon in the bottom right corner, then scroll and select “Help” or “Support.” In this section, choose “Contact Us” to start the process of messaging a support representative. Robinhood will guide you through a few prompts to better understand your issue. Once you provide the details, you’ll be connected to their in-app messaging system, which works like a secure chat. This chat feature allows you to send messages directly to Robinhood’s customer support team +(1) > (866) > (401) > (0866). You can explain your problem, ask questions, and upload screenshots if needed. A support agent will reply within the chat, often within a few minutes to a few hours, depending on the nature of your request. It’s important to note that this messaging feature is only available within the app or on the official Robinhood website +(1) > (866) > (401) > (0866). Never send messages or sensitive information to unofficial platforms or numbers claiming to be Robinhood. For a secure and quick resolution, always message support through the app’s official Help section.
